CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS.

The whole world to-day celebrates the 5th centenary of the discovery of America, and a short sketch of the life of Columbus will be interesting to our readers—

He was born at Genoa in the year 1435; his father, a cloth-weaver, sent him at the age of 10 to the university of Pavia, where he studied four years. He went to sea in his 15th year, aboard the vessel of his grand-uncle Capt. Colombo who commanded a Genoese ship of war, and served twenty years against the Venetians, Neapolitans etc. In 1470 he went to Lisbon, where his brother Bartolomeo was a designer of charts for the King of Portugal, and shortly after his arrival married Felipa de Palestrello, daughter of a famous Italian navigator in the Portuguese service, who was then Governor of Madeira. After the death of Palestrello in 1472 Columbus removed to the family estate at Madeira, and during his residence there conceived the idea of a western Continent.

In 1477 he made a voyage of exploration to Iceland. During the following seven years he vainly endeavoured to prevail on King John of Portugal or Henry VII. of England to give him a ship for the discovery of the New World. He was now overwhelmed with sorrows, his wife dead, and himself sunk in poverty. Tired and hungry he stopped one day in the autumn of 1484, with his boy Diego, at the Rabida convent. This was the turning-point in his career, as we have already related in connection with the Huelva fetes of last August.

The following is taken from the American Cyclopedia:—

The morning of Oct. 12th 1492 shewed them a wooded island about 2 leagues distant, and crowds of natives were seen running along the beach. At sunrise, the boats being lowered, Columbus with the royal standard of Castile, and the brothers Pinzon bearing each a flag with a green cross, were rowed with music and martial pomp to the shore. Columbus first stepped on the beach. All knelt down, kissing the ground with tears and thanks to God. Then rising and drawing his sword Columbus, as grand admiral and viceroy, shook out the royal banner, took possession in the name of the crown of Castile, and named the island San Salvador (one of the Bahama group, called Guanahani by the natives). The astonished natives gazed in silence at their visitors, whom they imagined to be the gods come down from heaven. Presents were exchanged of toys and trinkets for cotton, fruits and cassava bread. Some of the natives, who wore ornaments of gold, on being interrogated whence the metal came, indicated by gestures a country in the south, whereon Columbus carried off 7 of them and set out in search of this auriferous region, which he could not but think was Cipango. In the search, which proved fruitless as far as gold was concerned, he discovered the islands of Conception, Ferdinand and Isabella, Exuma, Isla Larga, and Cuba, the latter of which he at first thought was the Cipango he sought, but afterward concluded it was the mainland of India. He also discovered Hayti, which he thought was the Ophir of Solomon, but which he called Hispaniola, or Little Spain. On the bay, since called bay of Caracola, of this island, he built a fort with the timbers of the Santa Maria, and leaving in it 39 men, sailed, Jan. 4, 1493, for Spain, taking with him several natives in the Niña Martin Pinzon having already gone gold-hunting on his own account in the Pinta. During the voyage a storm threatened the Niña with destruction. Columbus, fearful lest the knowledge of his discovery should perish, prepared a written statement of it, and heading it up in a cask committed it to the deep. His sailors, and probably he himself also, vowed that if they were spared they would attend Mass in their shirts at the first Christian church they came to, a ceremony which they proceeded to perform on reaching the Azores. On March 15 1493, the ship reached the port of Palos, having a few days before been driven by storm into the Tagus, where he was favorably entertained by King John. The Spanish sovereigns, then at Barcelona, received him with the greatest honor, made him relate his adventures, seated in their presence, confirmed all the dignities previously bestowed, and placed him in command of a fleet of ships and 1,500 men, to prosecute the discovery. With this fleet he sailed from Cadiz, Sept. 25, 1493. From this day his good fortune forsook him. Many of those who sailed with him were adventurers in search of gold by whatever means. Mutinies and quarrels broke out, and many of those who expected to find fortunes for the gathering, but met nothing but disappointment, threw the blame on the admiral. Having discovered the Windward islands, Jamaica, and Porto Rico, and founded a colony in Hispaniola, of which he left his brother Bartolomeo adelantado, or lieutenant-governor, he returned home against the trade winds, and reached Cadiz, June 11, 1496. He was successful in clearing himself of the clamor against him. On some courtiers depreciating the value of his discovery, he invited them to make an egg stand on end. When they had exhausted their efforts to accomplish the feat, Columbus struck the egg on the table breaking the shell, and thus left it upright, "Any one can do that!" cried the courtiers. "When I have shown you the way," replied Columbus, leaving them to make the application. Columbus sailed on his 3d voyage to the new world, May 30, 1498, from San Lucar de Barrameda, with 6 ships. On this occasion he kept further to the S., discovering the mouth of the Orinoco, which he imagined was the great river Gihon, having its rise in the garden of Eden; also the coast of Para, and the islands of Trinidad, Margarita, and Cubaqua: then he bore away to Hispaniola, there to recruit his enfeebled health. He found the colony more disorganized than ever, and in his efforts to restore it became again the victim of malice and misrepresentation. A commissioner, named Francisco de Bobadilla, was sent from Spain ostensibly to enquire into the difficulties. His first act was to put Columbus and his brother in chains, and send them to Spain. The account given of this indignity is touching. "Are you taking me to death, Vallejo?" inquired Columbus sadly, when that officer came to lead him from his cell. "Your excellency is to be conducted to Spain," replied the officer, whereupon the admiral relapsed into silence. The officers of the ship offering to liberate him from his fetters, he replied proudly: "I will wear them as a memento of the gratitude of princes." The indignation expressed throughout Spain at this outrage caused the king to disclaim having authorized it; but it is evident that the nobles were jealous of the superior rank of the admiral, and the king dissatisfied with the unproductiveness of the new countries. After 9 months' polite evasion of his entreaties for redress, Ferdinand appointed Nicholas Ovando governor of Hispaniola, in his room. Bobadilla had meantime been recalled, and was drowned on the way. The only subsequent employment Columbus, now old, received, was the command of 4 caravels with 150 men, to search for a passage through the sea, now the gulf of Mexico. He sailed from Cadiz, May 9, 1502; was refused permission to refit at his own colony, Hispaniola; coasted the south side of the gulf of Mexico; and after much suffering from famine and hardship returned home, reaching San Lucar, Nov. 7, 1504, where he lay sick some months, and recovered only to have his claims for redress finally rejected by the king, Queen Isabel being now dead. Now 70 years old, broken in body, although in full possession of his mental faculties, having in his own words "no place to repair to except an inn, and often with nothing to pay for his sustenance," the discoverer of the new world died, in the act of repeating the words, in Latin: "Lord, into thy hands I commit my spirit." Seven years afterward a marble tomb was placed, for very shame's sake, over his remains, with an inscription ordered by the king:

A Castilla y á Leon
Nuevo mundo dió Colon.

("To Castile and Leon a new world gave Colon.") Death did not end his voyages. His remains, first deposited in the convent of St. Francis, were transferred in 1513 to the Carthusian monastery of Las Cuevas; were taken in 1536 to St. Domingo, and deposited in the Cathedral of that city; thence were conveyed with great pomp in 1796 to the cathedral of Havana, where they now repose.—The character of Columbus is impressed on his life; lofty, daring, and ambitious in design, indomitable in conduct, moderate in success, undepressed in adversity, and in all imbued with a spirit of devotion. In person he was above the middle height, his countenance oval, with aquiline nose, bluish-gray eyes, and fresh complexion. His hair had been auburn in youth, but whitened early. The nobleness of his bearing commanded respect. He spoke fluently, and his conversation was vivacious, although at a later period, when he had been tried by misfortune, he says his "speech was abrupt and little amiable." In personal habits he was temperate, and toward his family entertained the warmest affection. His sons were more fortunate than himself. Diego sued the king in the high council of the Indies, and, recovering the viceroyalty of Hispaniola, married Maria de Toledo, niece of the duke of Alva. Their eldest son, Luis, exchanged the hereditary dignity of admiral for a pension and the title of duke of Veragua, marquis of Jamaica. Luis's eldest daughter married her cousin Diego, and died without issue, the male line thus becoming extinct. Finally the property and titles became, in 1608, merged by marriage through the female line in a branch of the house of Braganza.

DESECRATION OF CEMETERIES.

Campo Santo is the Spanish for cemetery, because the Church consecrates the resting-place of our departed friends. God's Acre is the name in German. Even the Turks bestow an amount of care on their cemeteries which shews their respect for the dead.

In the Argentine Republic we have, unfortunately, to complain from time to time of the most shocking acts of desecration. Some years ago cargoes of bones and bone-ash were shipped aboard steamers bound for Europe at various towns on the Paraná, by order of the municipal authorities, and it is believed, we cannot say whether correctly or not, that the bones in question were from the "osario" or common pit in which paupers and others were buried.

The "osario" is peculiarly a Spanish, institution. In it are thrown not only the remains of paupers but also those of families who fail to pay the rent due for their graves. It often happens that after two generations a family once affluent is sunk in poverty; in such cases the bones of fathers and grandfathers are dug up and thrown into the "osario", the Municipality selling the grave afresh.

All this is very horrible to Europeans, who never disturb their dead: as Gray says, in his poem on a country churchyard:

"Each in his narrow cell for ever laid,
"The rude forefathers of the hamlet sleep."

The sanctity of the graveyard is such in England, that according to a Parliamentary Report there are 1411 cemeteries closed, having no more room, which are carefully kept by the rural authorities, because they are consecrated ground.

In another column we give a report of the committee named to investigate the abuses at the Recoleta, from which it appears that 800 corpses have been taken from their niches, stripped of their coffins and clothing, and thrown naked into two cellars. A layer of three feet of lime is to be thrown over them, to prevent the outbreak of a plague in B. Ayres. The matter has provoked much indignation, but we have no doubt the same thing will occur over again a year or two hence. Society is so profoundly demoralized that all respect for religion and for what Religion bids us honor, is trampled under foot, in the universal greed for money, no matter how it be obtained.

Meantime we take from the Voz de la Iglesia the following comments on this disgraceful business:—

"Not even the dead who reposed in the Recoleta could escape the scoundrels, whose rapacity found a means of making money by the vilest traffic. We are startled by the daring with which an abominable crime has been carried out in the Campo Santo on a vast scale.

"Among all nations animated by the civilizing spirit of Christianity there is a profound respect for the graves of the dead. But in B. Ayres the cemetery has become the head quarters of a gang of thieves. Not long since the corpse of a respected citizen was carried off from its tomb, and the criminals demanded a large ransom: the corpse was recovered in time, but the criminals were set at liberty, because stealing corpses was not a crime specified in our new Code.

"Still more recently it was observed at the Chacarita cemetery that wreaths and other ornaments disappeared in a few days, which gave rise to the suspicion that an active trade of desecration was carried on.

"But all preceding crimes have been cast into the shade by the revelations at the Recoleta. Hundreds of bodies have been taken up, stripped and thrown in heaps, for the purpose of selling the coffin handles, crosses, &c., as well as the ornaments placed by some pious hand in the niches.

"This business left a large profit, and might have gone on for a long time, had not the scoundrels in question given it too great a development. Huadreds of bodies in various degrees of decomposition were not only a scandal, a proof of wholesale robbery and spoliatton, but a terrible menace to public health. Nevertheless we regret to add that efforts have been made to cloak up the whole business and save the authorities from blame.

"It is to be noted that the bodies taken out of the various niches were paid for, and that the niches belonged to them.

THE BOYS' ORPHANAGE.

APPEAL TO THE ESTANCIEROS.

The Committee of Irish Ladies in charge of the Boys' Orphanage take occasion to appeal to the Irish estancieros and sheepfarmers of Buenos Ayres and Santa Fe, on behalf of so useful and charitable an institution. It is now 18 months since the orphanage was opened, and during that period it has met with the generous support of all classes of the English-speaking public in our city, as well as of a good number of our countrymen in the camp districts. The Committee have had more than 150 applications on behalf of destitute boys, which they were unable to accede to; the institute at present holds 33, and there is no room for more. But they feel bound to impress upon their prosperous countrymen, the estancieros, that it is urgently necessary to enlarge the Orphanage, so as to admit at least 50 boys. This would, of course, entail a corresponding increase of expenditure, which the present balance in bank does not warrant us to incur.

The Orphanage is managed with the strictest economy, the Lazarist Fathers receiving $4.10 gold per orphan monthly, for food and education, besides which the rent is $250 currency per quarter, and the expenses of matron, washing &c. are less than $100 a month.

We regret to say that owing to the financial crisis the Argentine Government has been unable this year to give us the same liberal subsidy of $4,000 currency that it gave us in 1891. Happily the want of this subsidy has been counter balanced by the friendly aid of the British Amateur Dramatic Society.

As the wool season is now at hand we call upon our friends in the camp, especially those who have heretofore held back until they could see the working of the institution, to send us in their donations. The list of benefactors was published in full with the balance-sheet for August 1892. Some have already paid in their subscriptions for the second year; others have been waiting for an opportunity of coming to town.

We shall gratefully acknowledge any sums that may be forwarded to

RESUMING SPECIE PAYMENTS.

Several causes have contributed lately to a delay in the passage of the remaining clauses of the Bill for the Redemption of the Paper Money. The national holidays have interfered with the debate, but the Chamber resumed its sittings on Wednesday. The rate of progress, therefore, has been slow during last week. In some respects a reaction appears to have taken place, not in public opinion which is steadfast in its demand for the withdrawal of the Paper Money, but in the minds of some of the men whose duty it specially is to pronounce opinion upon the different clauses of the Bill. At the outset, notwithstanding the amendments and counter-amendments that were proposed to many of the clauses, the progress, though slow, was steady, and the large and solid majorities in favour of the Committee's Bill were an excellent augury for the passage of the measure. Latterly, however, things have not been running so smoothly and where differences of opinion have been strongest has been in the debates on the clauses which directly affect the Banks. Some of these clauses have been thrown out, but they must not be considered as totally lost, for the Senate has to be counted with, and it is quite possible that by the time the Bill reaches that branch of the Legislature a salutary reaction may have set in with respect to the clauses which are not just now in favour.

The powerful influence wielded by the Banks is plainly discernible in the fact that the clause providing for the convertibility, within a certain period, of their notes was rejected. So also was the proposal to restrict their total issue to twenty millions; and another to levy a tax on their issues. It is difficult to comprehend how there can be any difference of opinion—that is to say, of genuine and unbiased opinion—with respect to the question of the convertibility, within a given time, of the Banks' issues. What would the country gain by converting its own notes, if the inconvertible notes of the Banks were to be allowed to remain in circulation? And what if the Banks were to be allowed to issue notes without limitation? The country would simply exchange one form of inconvertibility for another, and whether inconvertible paper should bear the signature of the Bank or of the Government the effect would be the same. In either case gold and silver would disappear from circulation, and the value of the notes would fluctute according to circumstances. It is a mistake to suppose, as is sometimes done, that gold and silver only commenced to disappear from circulation after the issue of Paper Money for the war. They began to disappear with the declaration of the inconvertibility of the bank issues, and it may be taken for granted that they will not remain in circulation so long as there are any indefinitely inconvertible notes in existence. Therefore, if we would return to specie payments and adopt a gold standard, we must do away altogether with inconvertible notes. The Government and the Banks' "inconvertibles" must go together, or it will be found that the remedy adopted for the redemption of the Paper Money will be worse than the disease The country will be saddled with another loan, but the gold representing it will vanish before the inconvertible notes of the Banks, and the last state of the financial condition of the country will be worse than the first. There are, however, good grounds for believing that these and other dangers will ultimately be averted. It is in the Senate where any defects that may creep into the Bill in its progress through the House will be rectified. It is not too much to say that it is to predict that Congress will not separate without having given its assent to a Bill to relieve the country from the incubus of a depreciated paper currency. It may not be out of place here to remind honourable members of both Houses that the success of the new loans will largely depend on the measures now adopted for restoring the currency of the country to a sound and healthy condition.—Chilian Times.

LORD MAYOR BOLLINI'S RESIGNATION.

Mr. Bollini has tendered his resignation of the post of Intendente, and on the occasion of his retirement has laid before the Corporation a message, which we summarize as follows, reviewing his administration:—

To the Hon. Corporation.

My task has been an ungrateful one. For reasons that we all know I was prevented from carryi g out works which the importance of this city, the first in South America, demanded. However, I have the satisfaction of stating that I succeeded in preserving what I found and even beginning fresh works. I always met with decided cooperation on the part of the President.

To you also I am indebted for your assistance in carrying out the works I have undertaken. It is thanks to the Government that we have managed to issue $25,000,000 in bonds to consolidate our debts. The Government too obtained for us from Congress a sum of ten millions to meet our more pressing engagements.

The municipal revenue this year up to date is $5,678,000, which is an increase of $685,000 compared with the figures for last year. Our ordinary expenditure up to date is $3,303,000, while our extraordinary expenditure has been $4,341,000. All our accounts, I may say, are paid up to date.

As it is not my intention to give here a full report of my administration, I shall not stop to enumerate all the improvements made. What most absorbed my attention when I accepted the post of Intendente was the enormous rent paid for the building occupied by the Intendencia, and being desirous of saving the city an annual expenditure of $72,000, to which sum the rent amounted, I proposed the erection of a building for the Intendencia, with a view, moreover, of utilizing the debris of the houses demolished for the Avenida de Mayo. The building was begun on Sept 30, last year. We have already spent $44,900 and the works are rapidly approaching completion. The total cost will be $150,000. We have added two wards to the San Roque Hospital. We have built a fine deposit in Palermo and we erected workshops in the Mad House, where the inmates now make mattrasses, brooms etc., which we find of great service. In the same establishment the washing is done for all the municipal hospitals at a cost of 12 cents per dozen, whereas formerly the cost was 48 cents. In the Rawson Hospital a special hall is being built for the surgical department. In regard to paving we have done little, for want of money.

Francisco Bollini.

If any of our camp readers want a good, steady man for school-master or book-keeper we would call their attention to an advertisement by Galway in another column.

THE CEMETERY SCANDAL.

In reference to the sensational disclosures made three days ago by the Argentino and so emphatically denied by other papers the next day—to which by the way the outgoing Lord Mayor makes no allusion in his Parthian address—the Special Committee's report was read at Monday's sitting of the Corporation. It appears from this report that no less than eight hundred bodies were taken out of their coffins and thrown into the common ossary, without even their shrouds. This scandalous abuse was perpetrated under cover of an edict authorizing the extraction of 15 corpses from the Acevedo and Castagnino vaults, and it seems that none of the regulations were observed in the carrying out of the edict, no notice even having been published in the press. It would appear, moreover, that an incalculable ("infinidad" says the Nacion) number of corpses have been stripped and thrown "pele-mele" into vaults. The Special Committee state that the sale of the lead taken from the coffins was carried on with the connivance of the manager and "peones" of the Cemetery who shared the profits.

Other charges of an equally serious nature have been found to be true by the Special Committee. For instance, it was found that trees had been cut down and used either as fuel by the manager or carted away to parts unknown. Another charge against the manager is that he received $800 from the Spanish Society for the grave-diggers, but did not give them the amount. This charge, however, has not been clearly proved.

We note that the Committee did not cross-examine the manager, who, no doubt, will be tried by the Courts. It is needless to say that the scandal has caused a profound sensation, and everyone clamours for the punishment of the guilty parties.

QUICK VOYAGES UNDER SAIL.

Oct. 2nd.

Mr. Editor—

Although unable to give Commander the best record of a sailing ship across the North Atlantic as he requests in your issue of 30th ult., the following may prove interesting to him. The Great Republic, an American 4-master, once crossed the equator in the North Atlantic in 33° W., only 15 days 19 hours from Sandy Hook.

But the most remarkable runs of sailing ships have all been made in the Great Southern Ocean. The famous composite clipper Thermopylæ has made the passage from London to Melbourne in 60 days; and from China to London in 91 days. The James Baines, while running her easting down along the parallel of 43° S. in June 1854, ran 420 miles in 24 hours. Two years later the Red Jacket ran from 72° E. to 134° E. in 8 days. She averaged 334 knots (say 385 miles) in wicked weather, and one day was iced up forward. The Melbourne made 5,129 miles in 17 consecutive days while making her easting, her miles.

In 1851 the clipper Flying Cloud made the passage from New York to San Francisco, her track computed at 17,000 miles, in 89 days 21 hours. Her greatest distance from noon to noon of any day was 374 knots (say 431 miles), which, allowing for difference in Longitude, was made in 24 hours 16 minutes 4 seconds. In 1853 the Comet reached New York from San Francisco in 83 days, and the Sovereign of the Seas from the Sandwich Islands in 82 days. The greatest distance made by the latter from noon to noon on any day (in this case 23 hours 2 minutes 4 seconds) was 362 knots (say 417 miles).

But these runs were all made in the days of moon-rakers, sky-scrapers, and studding sails at every yard-arm; whereas plain sail only is now the order of the day. What speed may be obtained from the gigantic sailing ships which are now being built remains to be seen The La France, a five-master of a net gauge of 3,600 tons and a burthen of 6,160 tons, carried her first cargo of coal 2 years ago from Cardiff to Rio Janeiro in 33 days, although only moderate winds prevailed.

H. G.

RIACHUELO PORT.

Mr. Editor.

In your paper of the 29th ult. is a letter by Nauticus, and I have been waiting for someone to reply. I note your correction of having printed Breakwater instead of Backwater. They are two things very different, one being solid the other liquid. The Breakwater is very expensive, while the Backwater costs nothing. Nauticus has kindly referred to my project presented to Congress in 1873 not only to improve the Riachuelo but form it into a perfectly hygienic dock larger than all the 4 Docks of Buenos Ayres (I cannot write Madero Docks) I have a copy of the original plan by Messrs. Bell & Miller in 1860 and what has been attempted is their plan and not Sr. Madero's.

Nauticus calls forth as if from the depth of the sea, because it is nearly 20 years since I gave to the Government of this country my project, the details of which would occupy too much of your space. No one in Europe will look at anything from this country at present, and I propose to do nothing until a new Government be formed, when I will again come to the front and produce different plans of Ports, Docks and Harbours already constructed to show that I was right.

I beg to enclose a Lithograph of my plan that I hope to present to the new Government.

Yours truly,
J. T. Stant.

Mr. Editor,

If "Mater Familas" would kindly communicate with me I shall be pleased to give her all the necessary particulars regarding the purchase of apparatus, also as to the best method of making a commencement.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The anxiously expected day has come at last, and Dr. Saenz Peña and the late Christopher Columbus are the heroes of the hour. The War Minister changed his mind yesterday and intends to parade all the troops of the garrison in the Plaza to-day. This will make the military spectacle more attractive. The proceedings in Congress will begin at noon and all will be over (except the lunch) at 3 p.m. Our Italian and Spanish friends have most of the Columbus business on their shoulders, and the procession to Plaza Italia will be well worth seeing.

The friends of the late lamented Father Adrian Cole will see by advertizement in another column that a Requiem Mass will be celebrated for him in the Passionist Fathers' church on Friday next.

Those fond parents who like to dress their olive branches nicely should read the "aviso" of the Paris-London in another column.

President Pellegrini decreed yesterday several promotions of officers in the army and navy.

Deputy Centeno, the honourable member for Santa Fe, died yesterday.

The Senate met yesterday and elected Senator Varela President for the extra session. Senator Crespo was elected Vice-President by 9 votes against 8. The two Houses meet at 2 p.m. to-day to swear in President Peña.

We hear that the B. A. A. Dramatic Club have had to postpone indefinitely the second performance of "Caste" owing to the unfortunate fact that one of the artists is seriously ill. We are in hopes however of hearing that a speedy and complete recovery may enable the Club to fulfill its promise to the British public ere long.

Who is the lucky holder of No. 112 in the furniture raffle of the Damas de Caridad of San Martin? It won the lot.

President Pellegrini was 46 years old yesterday and received many valuable presents and hearty good wishes, in which the STANDARD cordially joins.

There will be a great turn-out at Flores to-day, when the new Athletic Club makes its debut. The original Polo Club will be revived with a match against Belgrano, and there will be tea for all comers. The carriage entrance is alongside that fashionable establishment the Almacen de Genova.

The Neiderlein Expedition has returned from the Chaco with an incredible number of valuable exhibits for Chicago that will astonish Uncle Sam, we guess, you bet.

It was very announced yesterday that Mr. Thomas Anchorena will be the new Minister of Foreign Affairs and Dr. Calixto Latorre Minister of Justice.

"Au revoir" readers till Friday. When we think that, but for the discovery of America we should not be writing for you to-day, we feel bound to take a holiday on the anniversary of the great event.

The Damas de Beneficencia are likely to make a pile of money out of their Lottery On Tuesday the ticket sellers bought no less than 17,000 of the 20,000 lots. Lottery gambling has on the people.

One of President Pellegrini's last decrees was that granting Ferrari up to January 1st, 1895, to finish the new Colon Theatre.

There will be a cricket match to-day at Palermo between the Buenos Ayres C. C. and Lanus C. C. Play will commence on the arrival of the 10 a. m. train from Central, the F.C.C.A. having kindly arranged to let that train stop at Palermo for the convenience of the players.

Don't forget the British Cemetery concert at Quilmes to-morrow. The programme is a musical poem.

The good people of La Plata must be very sensitive and impressionable, as we learn on the authority of a morning contemporary that they are all in a terrible state of "ansiedad y angustia" lest there should be unpleasantness here to-day at the change of Presidents.

It seems that Lomas de Zamora is likely to draw a good number of residents this summer. Some families have already gone, and the President, Dr. Peña, has taken the Meeks Quinta. The raffle of the Golondrinas Quinta is to come off on the 6th (not the 16th) prox., and most of the tickets have been sold.

Devoto and Hurlingham are thankful to Mr. Hill for having reduced the charge for season-tickets, besides putting on extra trains from the 15th inst. Mr. Anthony Devoto's beautiful Italian villa at the Village of the Heights is now completed, as also the Quintas of Dr. Susini and Dr. Dominguez. Another residence is in construction facing the Pacific station. Lacroze's steam tramway is doing a very brisk traffic.

As the R. M. S. Tamar leaves on Saturday, our Packet-edition will appear on Friday morning, with Pres. Saenz Peña's inaugural oration.

The Children's Pantomime will be repeated on Sunday next, weather permitting. The Nacion published yesterday a very amusing account of all the trouble the mammas, aunts, big sisters and cousins had to keep the little performers in order behind the scenes.

The report of the Minister of Justice, to which we made reference yesterday, makes manifest the law's delays in this country. As if to give point to the Minister's remarks, Judge Garay gave final judgment yesterday in the famous suit of Baudrix versus Belaustegui, which began in the year 1850 and has been carried on by two generations of litigants for 42 years. The amount in dispute is only $43,000, and, of course, the lawyers have eaten up three times that sum in costs.

Three more suicides were reported in yesterday's papers. The horrible mania is taking another spurt.

The province of Santa Fé has now to answer in the Supreme Federal Court for $277,900 %, value of land expropriated from Messrs. Gruning and Canditi, in Rosario, on the river, for stations, wharves, etc. for the Western of Santa Fé Railway. The plaintiffs did everything in their power to get their money, but couldn't get a copper, and have now appealed to the highest tribunal in the land for justice. The land is the best situated in Rosario, and is to-day worth much more than the plaintiffs' claim. If they had sold it in the time of boom they would have obtained four times the price they now claim, and which was fixed by arbitrators, according to law.

The Uruguay News says:—"The decorations in the Plaza Independencia now being prepared for the Columbus festivities promise to be the finest we have ever seen in Montevideo. They are being got up with great taste. There will be some 30,000 coloured lamps lighted by pyroxaline, a new invention which has been tested in Buenos Ayres and at the Prado here, and turned out a great success."

Scotch whisky has had its "fling" for a long time in this market, and it is now fair to give old Ireland space for a jig. Messrs. Baugh and Co., 278 San Martin, have opened the ball by importing "Clanryle," a mellow Hibernian beverage that prevents the consumer getting riled at the trials of everyday life.

Adrogue, which is now coming to the front as a summer resort, has much increased conveniences for travellers and pleasure-seekers. Mr. L. Schäfer, well-known to the "habitués" of Aue's Keller and Restaurant, has, in partnership with Signor Montenari, opened a large hotel there, styled Hotel La Delicia. There are 75 rooms in the hotel, including a spacious dining-saloon, billiard-room and other attractions, and on Sunday evenings a local band will discourse sweet music in the garden of the establizhment. There is nothing like the suburbs in the summ

THREE GOOD REASONS
Why Sheepmen everywhere should use
Alexander Robertson's
HIGHLAND SHEEP DIP.
Best Summer Protection for Sheep.
Cures Scab.
Exterminates Vermin.

First.—It is an honest preparation. I publish the formula of its composition openly. I make no attempt to trade on the credulity of my patrons, who, with the formula before them, can form a shrewd opinion of the efficiency of the "Dip" and its value in Cash. I range myself alongside the Farmer, and make his interests my own.
Second.—It is a reliable sheep dip. That it Kills Vermin goes without saying—any Sheep Dip worthy the name will do that; but the Highland Sheep Dip does more,—it has a continuous destructive effect on all insects hatched after Dipping, and largely prevents future contagion from infested sheep. The strongly adhesive nature of the Rosin and Grease, which are the most powerful Waterproofing materials possible to introduce into a sheep Dip, "fix" the Dip in the fleece, forming, when dry, a film capable of resisting moisture, on every individual fibre of the fleece, so that when the fleece has been soaked by rain the sheep easily frees itself from all superabundant moisture by a simple shake.
Third.—It is the most economical Dip. For $1.75 gold Makers of Powder Dips give about 10 lbs. of Powder. This quantity of Yellow Powder Sheep Dip contains 2 lb Arsenic, 2 lb. Soda, 6 lb. Sulphur. These Dips kill vermin certainly; but their use is disastrous to the farmer—the harsh, dry feel of the sheep's fleece shortly after being bathed in these Alkaline Dips arises from the fact that the wool has been Robbed of its Natural Grease, which the Soda has converted into Soap, which, in turn, is washed out by rain. The farmer suffers a corresponding loss in the weight of the Wool, and the Sheep, robbed of Nature's protection, is left defenceless against cold and rain.
Soluble Fluid Dips—whose name is legion, though their nature is one—have an average cost of $1.30 gold per gallon, and consist of tar Acid Oil (25 o/o), 6 lbs. Soap, Soda and Water 4 lbs. These Dips have to be used at nearly double strength to kill vermin, even then they have no effect on the eggs; and, indeed, from the volatile nature of Tar Acids their effect can never be anything but temporary, no matter what strength they are used. The one thing in their favour is their free solubility in cold water, which is but a poor return for the need of greater frequency of Dipping, or the other alternative of flocks suffering from the effects of a temporary Dip.
The highland Sheep Dip contains in each 15 lbs. (1½ gallon), costing 1.75 gold 2 lbs. Arsenic, 6½ lbs. Tar Acid Oil (25o/o), 2 lbs. Carbolic Acid (95o/o) 4½ lbs. Rosin, Grease, etc., i.e., all the Arsenic in 10 lbs. Powder Dip, and all the Tar Acids in 2 gallons Fluid Dip, these insecticides being combined with materials of unrivalled Waterproofing Power.
No other Sheep Dip Maker in the world has ever put an equally serviceable preparation in the hands of Sheep Farmers, or has given an equal value in material for the price charged.

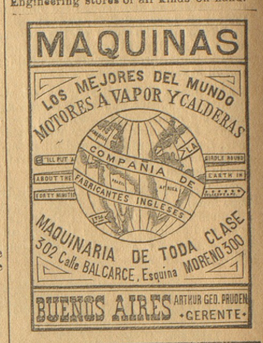
MAQUINAS



ON 'CHANGE.
Tuesday, October 11th 1892.
The gold market opened and closed very weak this morning. Fourteen thousand ounces changed hands at the first ring; the price opened at $52.70 and closed at $52.40, say 221 96% premium. The whole market appears to be on a sharp incline at present, and a heavy fall is imminent.
Patriotic Bonds were firm at 72.60 for cash and 73.40 for the end of November. Internal Bonds were hard at 66 for the end of the month. Catalinas advanced to 9.60, closing at 9.40. La Plata Cedulas were very firm at 30 and 30.10.
The exchange market was weaker today at 47¼d. on London and 5.02½ fcs. on France payable in Paris. Discounts were easy.
The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day:—

the million gold dollars shares held by the Government as part purchase money of the sale are not worth the paper they are printed on. The lesson is indeed a severe one, but the creditors in England will yet have something to say in the matter. Mr. White has greatly reformed the management and is doing his best, but some of the Senators call him an "intruso" and without any legal representation in Asuncion.

Business was dull at the second hour, though operations in gold and Cedulas kept matters going. The ounce closed weak at 52.30 and the market seems set for a further fall. In Patriotic Bonds nothing was done.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the second ring to-day :—

The London and River Plate Bank in Montevideo was closed to-day and remains closed to-morrow and the next day. We congratulate the Bank clerks upon such a solemn commemoration of the discovery of America. The Bank here however, is doing such a roaring business that they cannot afford to shut up for 3days and they will be only closed to-morrow. Strange that the Bank people in Montevideo have such a much higher appreciation of Columbus's discovery than our friends here.

The Santa Fé wheat crop is saved! This was the first news given to us on Change to-day by our friend Mr. Lavarello, who is perhaps better informed as regard Santa Fé matters than any other broker on the Bolsa ; his opinion, therefore, on such matters carries greater weight that that of any one else.

One of the greatest instances of the vicissitudes of life in this country is the sudden death yesterday of Mr. Simon Derqui in a prison cell in Corrientes. Deceased was son of one of the president of this Republic and brother of the late Dr. Derqui president of the Senate. He had been arrested and thrown into prison on charges of fraud perpetrated by him and others in the management of the National Bank in Corrientes the particulars of which we have already published.

It is very remarkable the great change that has taken place in the atmosphere of the Bolsa within the last 48 hours. The long threatened revolution, conspiracy, military 'pronunciamiento' etc., has resolved itself into a contemptible schoolboy tomfoolery, a whistling 'bochinche,' disgraceful to our politicians as men, and to our customs, our manners and our institutions. The matter was very much discussed on Change to day and condemned by all. We believe the whole thing will amount to nothing, as the good sense of the masses will outweigh any such attempted demonstration of vanquished political animosity. The transmission of power from Pellegrini to Saenz Pena, without civil war or revolt after a period of such unexampled misfortune and political ferment, is, we admit, the great cause of the improved atmosphere in the market, but it is not the only cause ; another and very powerful element has been last week's rain, which in the language of Mr. Lavarello has saved the Santa Fé wheat crop. There can be no doubt whatever that the country and the market are entering on a new departure. The political programme of that departure is to be sketched in Congress by the new Minister of the Interior, Dr. Quintana. The financial programme by Dr. Romero. Great political and financial changes await us. Let us all hope that they will bring back the country to its prosperity of byegone years.

A great business in maize is spoken of ; 2,000 tons deliverable in San Nicolas and without the intervention of a broker. The price of course is kept up as a great secret. 1000 bags of wheat sold in deposit at $8; 1400 bags of maize on board the lighter in the Boca at 6.50; 3000 bags of maize morocho sold in the Once for consumption at 6.15, and 6500 bags of wheat in the Constitucion at $5; 800 bales of hay placed in the Darsena at $29.

Lord Mayor Bollini's farewell address was read by everyone on 'Change. We give a precis of it in another column. He proved an active, energetic Mayor. He says that the new town-hall or Municipality in the Boulevard, one of the grandest buildings in town, will soon be finished at a cost of $150,000%, and that the Municipal revenue for the year up to date shows an increase of $884,943.-60% over the revenue of last year.

The great law-suit of Helaustegui versus Baudrix is at last finished, and the defendant is ordered to pay the plaintiff 43,422 Oriental gold dollars with interest.

The Courts have awarded Don Francisco Piñero $70,000% as fees for winding up the testamentaria of the late Don Felix Alzaga. We are of opinion that the winding up of testamentarias costs more in this country than in any other part of the habitable globe.

The following new members of the Bolsa are announced: Messrs J. de Saint Didier, Juan Lassalle, Carlos Olmi, silvio Velasco, Candido Muñoz, Alfredo Huergo and Juan Vigné.

We remind our country readers of the great auction on next Sunday at La Chosa, the estancia of the late Sr. John Brown, some of the best stock in the country will be sold by Messrs. Eastman and Kenny auctioneers. Particulars will be found in our advertisement column.

The splendid North American oak table and suite, on view for some time at Ely's in Calle Cangallo, now grace the board-room of the Porteña Insurance Company. This concern has enlarged its present premises by the addition of no less than three rooms, one of which has been furnished for the Board. The room was inaugurated last night, Mr. Holt, the manager, delivering an eloquent speech in which he graphically described the progress and prospects of his flourishing concern. The Porteña may now claim to have finer offices than any other insurance company in town, upon which the active manager has been much congratulated.

Messrs. Eastman and Kenny have sent round the following wool circular:

Oct. 11, 1892

Dear Sir,

The prices of wool this year depend more on the gold premium than on the European markets. Prices in Europe are not likely to improve for some time, owing to the great fall in cotton, which always affects wool. As our producers are paid for their wool in paper money and their expenses are in the same currency, the gold value of the staple does not trouble them so long as they get remunerative paper prices. The general opinion of the market is that the gold premium will decline considerably in the next few months; but we do not participate in this opinion, and believe that, if there is a decline, it will not be a serious one. Therefore, if we are right, estancieros need not be in a hurry to realize, as, if all rush into the market at once, freights and exchange will go against the producer, causing him a serious loss.

Estancieros from the North and West should send their produce to the Central Market in Barracas, as the Once de Setiembre has ceased to be a wool market and Plaza Constitucion can barely accommodate the "cargo" brought in by the Southern Railway. Next year most likely we shall have only one market, as it suits both exporters and producers to have one great wool market, and, whether this great centre is to be Plaza Constitucion or the Mercado Central, remains to be seen. We think it will be the Mercado Central, as the giving of the monopoly of a produce market to one railway would give it an unfair advantage over all the others.

Estancieros should bear mind this year that first-class wools in good condition will be sought after, and that such lots are certain to fetch high prices in Buenos Ayres. Camp buyers (acopiadores) this year will try to make up for last year's losses by picking up the choice lots, and estancieros must be on their guard, bearing in mind that bad wool in bad condition should be sold outside at any fair price, and that prime lots can be remitted to Buenos Ayres with all confidence in the result.

We are prepared to supply "lienzos" for tying up the wool, to any of our clients that ask for them, and have made arrangements to hold over produce on easy terms if clients are not disposed to accept offers.

We receive consignments of wool, hides, skins, grain, etc., in any market, always meeting the wishes of our clienty and doing our best for their interests. When prices are dull and estancieros do not wish to realize we can procure money for them from the banks on easy terms.

Eastman and Kenny.

The Platense steamer Mercurio arrived in the Boca to-day after a pleasant trip of 72 hours from Patagones. She has brought up a large quantity of produce and 500 tons of salt, the largest cargo of the kind yet received from the South by the Rio Negro Salt Company. She brought 20 passengers, amongst others Messrs. Anasagasti, Traub, Hansen and Carl. Captain Horatio Pritchard relates that the last storm, one of the fiercest ever experienced here, caught the Mercurio in her down trip off Cape Corrientes. On his arrival off the Rio Negro bar, which it would have been impossible to cross, the sea was so heavy that he decided to make for San Blas, in order to save the deck cargo. Captain Pritchard with the aid of Fitzroy's chart entered the port of San Blas on Monday morning by the coast Channel, and the Mercurio whistle soon brought a crowd to the coast. Mr. and Mrs. Buckland and family and Mr. Caparavici and family and the other passengers landed, and those bound for Patagones took a carriage at the San Blas Estancia, arriving that evening at destination. The Mercurio was compelled to remain two days in the port, as the sea was very heavy outside and the weather unpropitious. Finally on Wednesday morning Cap. Pritchard left the port and with the aid of Rivadavia's chart took the Constitucion Channel and successfully made his way out. He had, however, to remain 24 hours outside the Rio Negro bar, which he finally crossed, arriving safely in Patagones, after what may be termed an eventful trip. Captain Pritchard speaks very highly of the advantages of the port of San Blas, but for whose friendly shelter he would probably have lost the carriages, lumber and other deck cargo with which the Mercurio was laden.

The Procurator of the Treasury has reported to Government on the proposed bridge across the Rio Chico in Jujuy and urges the project to be shelved until the crisis is over. The estimated cost of the bridge was $11,685 gold and $73,020 paper.

The Post Master General of the U. States, in a very lengthy list called for bids for carrying the ocean mails to all parts of the globe. We extract from it the notice referring to the River Plate as it may have some interest for our readers :—

"No. 64—O. M. S. From N. York to B. Ayres, calling at St. Thomas, Pernambuco, Rio and Montevideo; once in forty-five days, in vessels of the fourth class. Time of voyage thirty-one and one-half days. When no calls are made at Brazilian ports on the outward voyage the time of voyage to be reduced to twenty-eight days. Bond required with bid $25,000. Contract for five years."

We learn by the mails received that a pension of £2,000 yearly has been conferred on Lord George Hamilton, who was first Lord of the Admiralty in Lord Salisbury's Cabinet. Lord George was a director and large shareholder of the English Bank of the River Plate.

767 CUYO 767—We don't recommend our readers to read the aviso of Messrs. A W Boote and Co., 767 Cuyo, but certainly their photo views are worth seeing, and thrown away at the price at which they sell them. London Argentine Gauchos are in the shade alongside some photos we have seen of the real thing. Mr. Boote is the sole photographer in town who devotes such great attention to the charming scenery and interesting customs of this vast Republic. "Our unhappy relatives at home hardly know this country from a Bond, Cedulas, or Moratorium point of view cannot be sent too many of Messrs. Boot's splendid photographs, as "recuerdos" which will solace their pecuniary anguish by the contemplation of the fine country their relations have adopted as a home." "Standard" September 4, 1892.

A LOS HACENDADOS Y á nuestra clientela

Animados por el favor y la confianza que los hacendados y el publico en general dispensa a esta casa, obligandole mas vasta esfera de accion y deseando corresponder a sus exigencias, nos es grato communicarle que desde la fecha hemos incorporado a nuestra casa de remates y comisiones las consignaciones de frutos del pais y cereales los que recibiremos a comision para vender en los mercados Central de Frutos, Constituccion y Once en las mismas condiciones que los demas consignatarios.

Semanalmente remitiremos a nuestros comitentes una revista de precios corrientes con fieles apreciaciones sobre el estado de la plaza.

Cuando los criadores o nuestros clientes lo pidan venderemos sus frutos en remate previo anuncio, lo que ofrecera la indiscutible ventaja de dar nombre y fama a los establecimientos productores, cuyos frutos con rarisimas excepciones se venden actualmente sin saberse en nuestra plaza y menos en Europa el establecimiento que los ha producido.

La venta en remate ofrece por otra parte en nuestro mercado mayores facilidades que en los del Havre, Londres y Amberes, porque aqui los compradores pueden apreciar mejor todo lo que compran, examinando el articulo sin enfardelar.

La distancia a que se encuentran nuestros mercados uno del otro y la circunstancia de hacerse los negocios simultaneamente en los tres, tiene el inconveniente de distribuir los compradores alejando la competencia, y el remate subsana esa dificultad, porque como se anuncia previamente, permite a los interesados congregarse a una hora fija en el mercado donde ha de efectuarse la venta, estimulando el exito de las operaciones la competencia de los licitadores.

Para vender frutos en remate, sera necesario que asi se nos ordene expresamente, de lo contrario venderemos a estilo de plaza.

Esperando merecer en este ramo la misma confianza que en las otras comisiones, nos es grato repetirnos sus attas. y S. S.
